Notes:

1. The percentage is calculated with reference to the then latest monthly return or next day disclosure return of the investee company publicly available on the website of the Stock Exchange.
2. Convoy and its subsidiaries (collectively referred to as the “Convoy Group”) were principally engaged in the independent financial advisory business, money lending business, proprietary investment business, asset management business, corporate finance business and securities dealing business.

As disclosed in the annual report of Convoy for the year ended 31 December 2015, in order to pursue its vision of becoming one of the leading financial groups across Asia, the Convoy Group has formulated three short-term missions: (i) to establish a comprehensive financial services platform in Asia, particularly in Hong Kong and Mainland China; (ii) to materialise the synergies among different business segments and locations; and (iii) to improve the capital structure of the Convoy Group.

3. Capital VC and its subsidiaries (collectively referred to as the “Capital VC Group”) were principally engaged in investing in listed and unlisted companies.

As disclosed in the interim report of Capital VC for the six months ended 31 March 2016, Capital VC expects the investment environment in the United States and other advanced economies will be relatively stable and there will be slower growth in Asia market. Its directors will continue to adopt cautious measures to manage the Capital VC Group’s investment portfolio.

4. China Parenting and its subsidiaries (collectively referred to as the “China Parenting Group”) were an online platform focusing on the Children-Babies-Maternity (“CBM”) market in the People’s Republic of China (“PRC”) and were mainly engaged in the provision of marketing and promotional service and e-commerce business.

As disclosed in the interim report of China Parenting for the six months ended 30 June 2016, the China Parenting Group adopted a diversified revenue model and has continued to benefit from the implementation of the Two Child Policy in the PRC since its launch. It has also been implementing its business targets including (1) strengthening research and development capabilities; (2) enhancing the user base and internet traffic of its platform; (3) developing its e-commerce business and related O2O business; (4) acquiring or investing in other companies engaging in O2O and CBM related business; (5) enhancing marketing and promotional services; and (6) working capital and other general corporate purposes.

5. Hydra Capital SPC is an unlisted investment fund, which was incorporated and registered as a segregated portfolio company under the laws of the Cayman Islands for the purpose of carrying out the investment strategy, and its investment portfolio included certain online games.

6. CK Hutchison and its subsidiaries (collectively referred to as the “CK Hutchison Group”) were principally engaged in five core businesses: ports and related services, retail, infrastructure, energy, and telecommunications.

As disclosed in the annual report of CK Hutchison for the year ended 31 December 2015, despite the global uncertainties in political and economic aspects, the CK Hutchison Group will continue to manage its core businesses with prudence to achieve stable growth and sustain profitability.

7. PCCW and its subsidiaries (collectively referred to as the “PCCW Group”) were principally engaged in telecommunications, media, IT solutions, property development and investment, and other businesses.

As disclosed in the annual report of PCCW for the year ended 31 December 2015, owing to the increasing digital lifestyle of consumers and digital transformation of enterprises and increasing demand for new media content, connectivity, IT and cloud capabilities to drive business efficiencies and enhance customer experience, PCCW will continue to benefit from this trend which brings the overall growth to the PCCW Group.

8. Tencent and its subsidiaries (collectively referred to as the “Tencent Group”) were principally engaged in the provision of value-added services and online advertising services to users in the PRC.

As disclosed in the annual report of Tencent for the year ended 31 December 2015, the Tencent Group recorded healthy growth in revenues and profit in 2015 as a result of enhancing its ongoing businesses in the PRC.

9. Alibaba and its subsidiaries operated an internet-powered integrated platform which includes financing and investment, entertainment content production, promotion and distribution, fan-based social economics, and cinema service provision.

As disclosed in the annual report of Alibaba for the year ended 31 December 2015, in light of the strong box office growth in recent years, Alibaba expects a higher public demand for entertainment content in the PRC.

10. AIA and its subsidiaries (collectively referred to as the “AIA Group”) were principally engaged in the writing of life insurance business, providing life insurance, accident and health insurance and savings plans throughout Asia, and distributing related investment and other financial services products to its customers.

As disclosed in the interim report of AIA for the six months ended 31 May 2016, AIA is well placed to benefit from the resilient economic fundamentals, expanding middle classes, rapid urbanisation and favourable demographics that continue to drive the growing need for its products and services. It therefore remained confident in the prospects for the AIA Group and ability to generate further sustainable value for its shareholders.

11. First Credit and its subsidiaries (collectively referred to as the “First Credit Group”) were principally engaged in money lending business.

As disclosed in the interim report of First Credit for the six months ended 30 June 2016, the First Credit Group recorded an increase in profit in the first half of 2016 of approximately 20.43% to approximately HK$14.64 million and will continue to concentrate its efforts on the existing money lending operations in Hong Kong riding on its experience in money lending business.

12. Gameone and its subsidiaries (collectively referred to as the “Gameone Group”) were principally engaged in the development, operation, publishing and distribution of online and mobile games in Hong Kong and Taiwan.

As disclosed in the first quarterly report of Gameone for the three months ended 31 March 2016, although the Gameone Group recorded a net profit of approximately HK$1.5 million for the three months ended 31 March 2016 as compared to a net profit of approximately HK$6.9 million for the corresponding period in 2015, the Gameone Group will continue to pursue the key business strategies to expand game portfolio through introducing more high-quality licensed games with a focus on mobile games and consolidate market position and enhance marketing efforts and is optimistic about the future of Hong Kong’s game industry.

General

The Directors expect that the stock market in Hong Kong remains to be volatile in the year of 2016 which may affect the performance of the Group’s securities investments. Looking forward, the Board believes that the performance of the securities investments of the Group will be dependent on the financial and operating performance of investee companies and market sentiment which are affected by factors such as interest rate movements and performance of the macro economy. In order to mitigate the associated risk, the Group will continuously remain cautious in the allocation of resources and the identification and capture of appropriate securities investment opportunities and will review its investment strategy regularly and take appropriate actions whenever necessary in response to changes in the market.

The above additional information does not affect other information contained in the Interim Results Announcement and the Interim Report and the content of the Interim Results Announcement and the Interim Report remains unchanged.
